DAYS OF THE PIGSKIN ON; PUNAHOU HAS LARGE SQUAD

Thirty-five Men Out and the Coaches Hope for Win- ning Team

Punahou's "sons of the pigskin" have turned out in force this year and give promise of a team as good, if not better, than the teams of former years. The boys are out every afternoon at four o'clock and working with a will, under the directions of Mr. Burdick, Director of Athletics, Mr. Burdick, coach, and Mr. Wine, assistant coach. Mr. Ricker is already famous as Punahou as the coach of former teams. Some of the fellows who worked under him are now star players on eastern college teams.

Mr. Burdick and Mr. Wine, though new at Punahou, have shown their ability as organizers by the way the boys have responded to their calls for more football material. Burdick was a Kansas star before going to Yale to finish his college work.

The turnout this year is larger than that of last year, 25 boys having turned out this year as compared to about 20 last year. With such an amount of material to choose from Punahou should be able to piece another winning team in the field this year, though a good many of last year's star players have left.

Paty, captain of last year's team, who is now working in town, is collecting material for a town team which will be composed mostly of stars. Punahou plans to get an extra series of games through him.

Other men who left Punahou last year are, George Murray, half-back; Francis Cowen, end; Han Hitchcock; Jack Moir, guard; Cyril Hoops; and John Moore, guard.

Last year's men who will play on this year's team are, "Scotty" Schuman, Captain for this year; Ailen; Tom; Will Hitchcock; Bill Coney, and Will Inman. The rest of the team will be composed of new men.

Mr. Ricker plans to have two teams and possibly three. The first team will play a series of games with McKinley High School and also with the town team which Paty is now forming. Another series was expected with the College of Hawaii but owing to lack of material the College will not have a team this year much to the disappointment of Punahou, as her best game was played with the College last year.

The second team will play a series with the second team of McKinley High School and another with the Honolulu School for Boys. No arrangements have as yet been made for the third team.

The men who will play on the first team have not yet been chosen. Mr. Ricker is arranging for a series of class games which will probably come off during the week and the teams will not be chosen until after these games, which are an annual event at Punahou.

A definite schedule of games has not yet been arranged but the coaches are at work on it and it will probably be ready in the near future.

WORLD'S SERIES TO OPEN IN NEW YORK TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8

A Few Timely Facts About the Banner Event of the Baseball Season, Which Is Slated for This Week

The opening game of the world's baseball championship will be held in New York on Tuesday, October 8. The games will alternate between Giantville and Boston—one game in each city until the series is concluded.

In the event of rain, it was decided that the visiting team should remain in town until the game is played. The toss of a coin decided which city was to get the opening game. A second toss, with similar result, fixed the opening date. The Boston club preferred Monday, October 7.

The umpires selected are: National League, Klem and Rigler; American League, O'Loughlin and Evans.

The Boston club will control the sale of tickets in that city. This is a victory for President Ban Johnson of the American League.

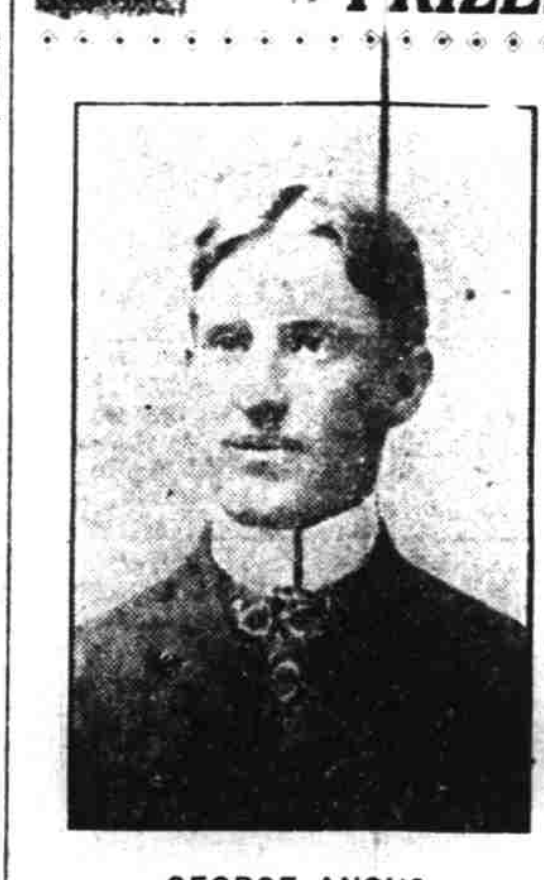

In New York the sale of tickets will be handled by the National Commission. Boston has worked out a plan whereby tickets will be delivered, so far as is possible, to persons who have already made application. Tickets, good for three games each, will be issued.

In New York, with a view to defeating the speculators, the only seats reserved will be a block of 5500 in the upper grandstand. Seats in the lower grandstand and bleachers will be sold at the Polo Grounds, and each person purchasing a ticket must pass directly into the grounds.

Among the reserved seats will be a block of 75 for the National Commission; two each for each member of the opposing teams, and not over 50 tickets for representatives of the local papers.

The number to be allotted to out-of-town correspondents was not announced. The list will be approved by the Baseball Writers' Association.

GILL AND HALSTEAD WIN PRIZES IN MEDAL GOLF

Qualifying Round for Manoa Cup Event Played on Country Club Course Yesterday--Only Sixteen Took Part and Six- teen Qualified

By "T."

The qualifying round for the Manoa cup, emblematic of the golf championship of the Oahu Country Club, was played off yesterday, a rather slim field during off. To call the 35 holes of medal play a qualifying round proved something of a joke, for only sixteen players were entered, and sixteen were to qualify for another session of medal play next Sunday, it naturally followed that everyone had a place clinched before he started out, provided he had the patience to keep on playing no matter what difficulties he encountered.

It was the consensus of opinion that the day's play would have been considerably more interesting from the standpoint of the game, if the number to qualify had been reduced to eight, owing to the light entry list. Then everyone would have had to work for his honors, and it would have been a test of qualification in fact as well as in name. As it was, yesterday's play had absolutely no bearing on the final rounds of the cup competition. It was immaterial whether a player put up a good, bad, or indifferent brand of golf, for he was bound to start next Sunday, and start with a clean slate.

Two prizes were offered yesterday, one for the best net and the other for the best gross score turned in. This made an interesting competition out of the day's play, and gave the golfers something to think about while they plodded through the weary rounds. And weary they proved to be most of the players, with a couple of exceptions. A 39 followed by a round somewhere in the fifties was a common occurrence, and such in-and-out golf has seldom been seen at the Country Club.

The most striking exception to this was Frank Halstead, who had the best gross of the morning with a couple of useful 40s. In the afternoon he started out with a classy 39, but on his second round tried to do too much on the green, and lost several shots through over-putting the tin in an attempt to gobble, and then taking two more to run the sphere down.

T. Gill was two strokes better than Halstead on the gross of the entire 36 holes, averaging 40 1/4 with a little variation.

George Angus, who is the present holder of the Manoa cup, and who had taken it for the last three years had run, had an off day, and worked a 47 and a 47 into his card. Angus has more competition this year than formerly, and if he wins again he will probably have to hold an average of better than 40 for the four rounds next Sunday. He has been playing but little golf recently, and lacks the steadiness that comes with practice. Angus is always a dangerous man in competition, however, and usually the harder the fight the better he plays. He is better as a match player than at the score game for this reason.

T. Gill seems to have the inside track for the cup. Gill is the only man of the club, and he too is at his best when playing the game in sober earnest. Gill, Angus, Halstead and Greig are the only possibilities for the championship next Sunday, with the chances favoring the former. Yesterday was an exceptionally good day for golf, there being only a couple of short flurries of rain in the morning, and less wind than usual. It was hot plodding over the course, however, and a number of players who flopped down at the nineteenth hole and announced that they were "all in" was exceptional.

Following are the tabulated scores. The handicaps are based on 36 holes:

RED SOX ARE STRONG FAVORITES IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Heavy wagering on the result of the coming world's series between the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox has begun in earnest. Thousands of dollars have been posted already both here and in Boston, not to mention the indications are that before the teams clash in the first game a sum of enormous proportions will hang in the balance. A canvass of leading bettors at various local sporting resorts Saturday night revealed the indisputable fact that the Red Sox are hot favorites and that the prevailing odds offered by their supporters are five to four.

Men who backed the Giants heavily last year, chiefly because the strength and skill of the Athletics were underestimated, can not figure McGraw's men in any way this time. Well-known brokers and business men who make a practice of betting on sporting events, showed memoranda Saturday night covering strings of bets on the Red Sox as long as your arm. In each case those who backed the Giants offered 5 to 7.

Prominent layers of odds, bookmakers on the race tracks in former years, have also made the Red Sox odds-on favorite. A week ago these gamblers were laying 4 to 5 against the Boston champions, but they got

DAVIS WOULD TEACH BASEBALL TO WORLD

Harris Davis, ex-manager of the Naps, is planning to become American baseball ambassador at large to the world.

He is now in correspondence with baseball men commissioned to sign baseball coaches for foreign countries.

Davis plans to teach the game in Japan, China, England, France and to the German army; also in Hawaii and to the athletic-loving people of Australia.

"I have information that there are fat jobs waiting for competent baseball coaches in these countries," said Davis. "Baseball is certain to travel around the world. The statement recently made that international baseball games among the four corners of the earth would promote world's peace through bringing the nations into closer understanding, of each other may not be a dream."

IRA THOMAS HAS PICKED BOSTON SPEED BOYS

PHILADELPHIA—Ira Thomas, who is in a position to know, has a few things to say about the Boston Red Sox and what they look like for the big series. Ira has been in two world's series and his opinion is worthy of consideration.

"That is a great ball club of Jake Stahl's," said the veteran backstop. "I really didn't give the Sneeep Boys credit for being as formidable as they are until that last series, in which they beat us three straight games. We have no excuse to make for 'the lickings, for we went into the series all primed up, determined to make a desperate stand, as we realized that if we were beaten by Boston in these games they could count us out as permanent possibilities for 1912. Our pitchers were well rested up and every thing else was favorable, but the Red Sox jumped on us and gave us a grand old trimming."

"I believe that Bill Carrigan will be able to take care of any base running that the Giants may attempt. The Bostonian hasn't the best arm in the world, but he is a wise fellow and uses his brains where a less experienced player would have to depend on mechanical skill and strength. As a matter of fact, base running has not played much of a part in the last few world's series. We were told in 1910 that the Cubs would run hog wild on me, as I was possessed of a bad arm and wasn't good anyhow, but I notice that nobody stole any of my clothing or equipment. Last season the dopesters had it figured out the same way, that Thomas wouldn't be able to keep the Giants in the park at all. Yet when it came to the test I managed to turn a few back and to command enough respect to prevent any wholesale robberies."

Pitchers Onto Job.

"With pitchers who will keep the men close to the bases, and will hand their catcher the ball in some sort of fashion, when men are going down, there isn't much to fear from these highly touted base thieves. I believe that the Tigers when they are going well, are about the best base running club in the business, and they never have shown up Bill Carrigan. The Giants haven't anybody who can compare with Cobb on the paths, which Moriarity, Bush and Crawford when they get on the sacks in situations that make stealing logical."

"I figure that the Boston pitchers will not permit anybody to get such a lead that he couldn't be shot down with a rifle by the time the catcher gets the ball. Wood is a good man for holding them on, and Ray Collins, being a southpaw, naturally is a hard bird to get a lead on. All that the slabs have to do is to give Carrigan or Cary half a chance, and they will take care of the rest, sore arm or no sore arm. Brains will go a long way toward off-setting, some kinds of physical handicaps, and there have been a lot of catchers who were ranked as stars long after they had lost the cannon ball whips of their early days in the game."

Wagner Dependable.

"Another thing that will help the Boston catchers is the fact that 'Heine' Wagner, shortstop on the American league champions, is one of the best men who ever lived when it comes to handling a throw and putting the ball on the runner. Wagner can take them high, wide, or any other old way and get the fellow sliding in if the ball reaches him a fraction of a second before the time that the would-be thief arrives. And you can take it from me that it aids a catcher a lot to have somebody around that keystone whom you can depend on to tag them."

One man whom the high cost of living does not touch is Jack Johnson. He can grab $50,000 for two fights and he doesn't seem the least bit eager for the grabbing, either.

Maybe Bryan is some talker, but around Boston they can see only one "Speaker," and his name is Tris.

SOLDIER KING WAITS AND WONDERS

Soldier King is out early and late these days, perched on commanding points with a spyglass, and trying to locate some of the many foot runners who are supposed to be after his scalp. Half a dozen soldier and civilian speed burners have been mentioned as likely candidates for the job of lowering King's colors, but to date none of them have gone beyond the mentioning stage. So King, who, to use a theatrical expression, is "resting" just at present, wanders round Honolulu and environs, looking for someone with a good turn of speed and the ambition to show it.

King is looking hopefully toward Fort De Russy, where three fast men in Bernstein, Goldberg and Moss are said to be pawing the cinders for a chance to show their speed and stamina. Then there is another trio consisting of Nigel Jackson, Frank Scharsch and Antone Kao vying the red flag of a challenge at King. Between the lot, there should be some racing before long.

"I would rather go into a fifteen-mile race either against one man, or a relay team or in open race," said King this morning. "The reason I want this distance is that I hold every other island record, and want a chance to cop this one, which is still held by Jimmie Fitzgerald. His time is 1:32 and I feel sure I can clip something off it."

King holds all the other island records for distances usually run, as follows:

One mile, 4:48 1-5; 5 miles, 27:38 1-5; 10 miles, 58:28 2-5; 20 miles, 2:43:00; marathon distance, 8:14:10.

OLD-TIME LUAU FOR MAUI MEN

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Oct. 5.—The complimentary luau for the Maui baseball team and regatta boys was given at the residence of Hon. John W. Kalua this afternoon from 1 until 6 o'clock. A large number of invitations were issued, and fully 250 guests were present. Mrs. Kalua had full charge of arranging the tables and preparing the luau. It was one of the best ever given on Maui. All that could be wished for at a feast of this kind was on the tables. The strictly Hawaiian dishes were unusually good.

John M. Vivas was the originator of the plan to give the luau, and started the subscription paper which raised the generous amount that made the celebration such a success. The Wailuku Sugar Company erected the big pavilion and loaned the tarpaulins. The spacious yard of Judge Kalua was completely filled with the big tables, the guests and the automobiles that brought people to the feast.

The baseball and regatta boys entertained the company with a number of well-chosen songs. After the first half hour of feasting, Mr. Vivas called upon H. Gooding Field for a speech. He asked "the stranger" to tell what he knew of baseball, saying that once he was umpire of a game. Mr. Field made a very happy response, which was applauded. Among other things he said that he expected Maui next year to win everything. Three cheers were given for the men who represented Maui so well in the recent events in Honolulu.

STARS AND J. A. C. ARE WINNERS IN TWO LOOSELY-PLAYED GAMES

Hampton and Raphael Furnish Day's Excitement by a Mild Encounter

Two loosely played games at Athletic park yesterday were marked mainly by rough tactics and errors. A total of nineteen errors, an average of almost five per team, was collected during the brace of contests, in the first of which the Stars beat the Asahis 9 to 2, the second being 8 to 4 victory for the J. A. C.'s over the Havvill's. In the latter game there was a bit of excitement when Hampton coming in from the third bumped into Catcher Raphael. Hyman dropped the ball and thought Hampton made the miss intentional, and a lot of spectators thought so, too.

The Asahis and C. A. U. managed to maintain their proud positions at the head of the Junior League percentage table yesterday, the former by winning from the Whites in an extra inning game, and the latter by taking a Sunday off and not going within the danger zone of a beating. Both the morning games at Athletic Park were well worth watching, and a fair-sized crowd got more than its money's worth. The opener, between the Asahis and Whites, went ten innings and looked like the property of the latter team until the final spasm. The second game was a hummer throughout. Pitcher Mahuka kept such a wary eye on base runners that he nailed no less than seven off the bag, and instilled a wholesome respect for his speedy flinging into every member of the team, that will have a moral effect for some time to come.

DUKE PAYS VISIT TO FORMER TEACHER

The first place that Duke Kahana-moku turned his steps toward after he had arrived home and the greetings of his many friends were over, was the King's Daughters' Home, where there lives a little old lady, Miss Morony, who used to teach Duke when he was a little fellow.

She had become deeply interested in his success at Stockholm, and each day had inquired for news of him. He

WHITE HOPES KEEP APART

SAN FRANCISCO.—While it can scarcely be claimed that there is a lack of pugilistic material just at present, the promoters seem to find it harder than ever to arrange matches of an attractive character. Various causes combine to keep the best men in the game apart. In some cases the fellows whose services are most in demand put their prices so high that the matchmakers cannot meet the terms and live. In others the pugilists who are being sought after prefer picking their own marks to meeting the men selected for them by the promoters. It's a matter of protecting whatever prestige has been gained by dodging dangerous customers.

A half-year ago every white hope and trail horse in the land was spoiling for a fight. Now it is easier for a camel to perform any of the stunts that a house sparrow excels in than it is to bring a couple of scrub heavies within striking distance of each other. This fellow Jim Flynn appears to be the only white heavy willing to tackle anybody without imposing stumbling block terms. He went to Los Angeles because he was told that a match with Tommy Burns awaited him there. Then word came from Burns that his business interests in Calgary would deter him from accepting ring engagements.

This seems strange in view of the fact that Burns for months past has besieged the San Francisco promoters with requests to be sent against someone in order that he might show how completely he has "come back". Flynn is now on his way to New York to try to arrange a bout with Al Palmer, but there again disappointment awaits him, according to all accounts. The story goes that Palmer will not agree to meet Flynn until the fireman has "earned a reputation."

There is still a chance that Flynn and Al Kaufman will be seen in action here in November. Both sides have agreed with Coffroth in regard to most of the details and it is only a slight difference in terms suggested by both parties that is keeping the contract from being closed.

stayed a long time and told Miss Morony all about his experiences, and also received the congratulations of the other inmates of the home, who nodded around to shake hands with him.

Now it happens that on October 12 the King's Daughters are going to have a doll sale and one of them had dressed a doll in boy's clothes, and it happened to be the only boy in all that crowd of dainty girls. As all the girl dolls were named, the boy had to have one, too, so they have christened him Duke Kahana-moku, so the Duke won't feel a bit embarrassed if someone things that familiar saying, "O, you beautiful doll," at him.

"Breakers ahead for the milk trust," runs headline in an eastern exchange. We thought any ordinary stream would answer the purpose.

Jennings and Mathewson are going to report the world's series for a newspaper syndicate. Wonder who's going to write it for them?
